(B) Something - Elvis (live at the Honolulu International Centre and via satellite) (Beatles 1969)

Elvis Presley made television and entertainment history with his Elvis: Aloha from Hawaii - Via Satellite special. Performed at the Honolulu International Center Arena on January 14, 1973, broadcast live at 12:30 AM Hawaiian time. It beamed via Globecam Satellite to Australia, South Korea, Japan, Thailand, the Philippines, South Vietnam and other countries. It was seen on a delayed basis in around thirty European countries including in America on April 4th on NBC. The live broadcast in January attracted 91.8% in the Philippines and 70% in Hong Kong. In America it attracted 51% of the television viewing audience, and was seen in more American households than man's first walk on the moon. In all, it was seen in about forty countries by over one billion people.

It was very expensive to rent a satellite for one hour, so Colonel Parker (Elvis's Manager) went to NBC, because they owned the satellite: they cut the deal and it was the first one. Ever. Elvis was a nervous wreck, but it went perfectly. His biggest concern was the timing because the satellite provided a fixed end time. Joe Esposito was at the side of the stage with a flashlight and he flashed the light to let Elvis know he had ten minutes left. The whole performance was for charity and merchandise sales went to a local charity for cancer research.

(A) Bette Midler - 1992 In My Life (Beatles 1965)

According to Lennon, "In My Life" was his "first real major piece of work" because it was the first time he wrote about his own life. In 2000, Mojo named "In My Life" the best song of all time.

(B) We Can Work It Out 1971 (Stevie Wonder) (Beatles 1965).

Stevie Wonder performed the song three times for the Beatles:

- For Paul McCartney in 1990 when McCartney was presented with a Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award.
- In 2010, after McCartney was awarded the Gershwin Prize by the Library of Congress, he performed it at a White House ceremony held in McCartney's honour.
- And in January 2014, at the 50th anniversary tribute of the Beatles' appearance on The Ed Sullivan Show.

(B) With A Little Help From My Friends 1969 (Joe Cocker)

Used as the theme for the TV show Wonder Years during the 1980s and 1990s

(B) Lady Madonna - Tommy Emmanuel

10 May 2023, 8:00 pm, Perth Concert Hall, Perth, WA

"Every day I am trying to play better than yesterday. I am not focused on fame and money. It is all nice if you have it, but I really hope to place a trail for the younger generation. If they see what I do, hopefully they are inspired from it. That's how I look at it. Fame and money is all scenery. It is not spiritual, no personal growth ... I'm looking for something to leave behind."

(A) Come Together - 1978 Aerosmith (Beatles 1969)

From the film Armageddon

(A) Help! Tina Turner 1984 (Beatles 1965)

(A) Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds (1974 Elton John) (Beatles 1967)

After the media suggested that Lucy In the Sky with Diamonds referenced LSD (initials), McCartney said "[I]t's easy to overestimate the influence of drugs on the Beatles' music." although he confirmed it was "pretty obvious" drugs did influence some of the group's compositions at that time.

In 1974, English musician Elton John released a cover version as a single. Recorded at the Caribou Ranch, it featured backing vocals and guitar by John Lennon under the pseudonym Dr. Winston O'Boogie (Winston being Lennon's middle name).

(A) Can't Buy Me Love - Michael Buble (2005) (Beatles 1964)

(A) Strawberry Fields Forever (Candyflip)

(A) Ticket to Ride 1969 - (Beatles 1965)

Became the Carpenters' first charting single

(A) Tomorrow Never Knows (Phil Collins)

(B) All You Need Is Love (Katy Perry)

... has released a cover for a new Gap holiday advertisement.

In an Instagram post, Perry noted that appearing in the ad marked a full-circle moment for her. "From folding sweatshirts at Gap to 20 years later starring in the holiday campaign dreams do come true!" Proceeds from the song will benefit @baby2baby's mission to provide basic essentials to children living in poverty across the country," Perry wrote.

3*NEWS 1 - Smart Shoes

Connected footwear as they're tagged can analyse running style, determine if there is any strain, measure your balance and impact pressure and ultimately make recommendations to support the goals you set for training. Some can also actively morph to some degree increasing or decreasing firmness as well as adjusting lace tension.

Rather than whole shoe solutions, smart insoles are also evolving to provide the smarts for existing shoes.

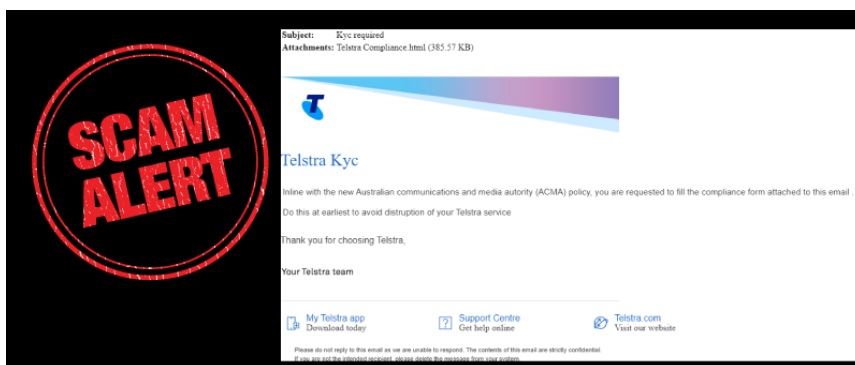

If that's not enough, the shoe folk have also been refining wheeled shoes or hybrid Roller Skates as they are sometimes called. Walk Wing shoes allow you to quickly convert from walking to running to skating with the flick of a switch... and they are making AI powered shoes that are motor assisted and learn your walking style. See the show notes for more info <https://youtu.be/qe4CHWuInDs>

STINGER*NEWS 2 - Telstra Scam

"Have you received an unexpected email from Telstra asking you to complete a form to avoid disruption or cancellation of your service? Be wary – it may be a scam!" ACMA (Australian Communications and Media Authority) is aware of an emerging email scam that uses Telstra's branding and advises recipients to complete a KYC (Know Your Customer) compliance form.

The email falsely advises that this is required due to a new ACMA policy. If you've received this email do not download or open the attachment or any links in the message.

If you are in any doubt about whether an email you have received from Telstra is genuine, contact Telstra via its publicly available contact details or verified app.

STINGER*NEWS 3 - IWhat is your unique snoring signature?

Snoring is a common issue for many people, and the frustration of trying to sleep through it can be difficult to deal with. While there are a few smartphone apps that can help monitor snoring, their accuracy is often in question due to outside noise and other sleepers in the bedroom. That's why researchers from the University of Southampton are now looking into using machine learning models (read AI) to identify snoring and coughing accurately.

The researchers are using deep neural networks (complex mathematical modelling) and machine learning models to recognize the signature sound of snoring and coughing. This would be a huge step forward for those who struggle with snoring, as the data gathered could help doctors diagnose the underlying cause of the snoring and provide more effective treatments.

The research is still in its early stages, but it has the potential to be a great help to those who struggle to get a good night's sleep due to snoring. It could also be used to identify snoring in other settings, such as in hospitals, where it's important to identify potential respiratory issues early on.

STINGER*NEWS 4 - Chat GPT 4

If numbers mean anything the new GPT4 model due to be released next week will be 500 times more powerful than the current release. If you're not across all this AI stuff...GPT4 is the latest version of OpenAI's large language model, which is trained on vast amounts of online data to generate compelling responses to user prompts. The rub with this release is that responses to questions can include graphics, music and video. Can you imagine?

In recent weeks both Microsoft and Google have been criticised for creating these so-called bullshit generators. Now they are going to add photos and videos to the mix. I for one can't wait to see what comes out the other end of a few test questions.

STINGER*NEWS 5 - Vinyl wags its tail at CDs

It's official: vinyl is back. After a 33-year hiatus, vinyl record sales have outperformed CD sales in the United States for the first time since 1987 according to a new report released by the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA).

The report found that just over 41 million vinyl records were sold in 2022, to the tune of $1.2bn (£.99bn). Meanwhile, only 33 million CDs were sold, amounting to $483m. This marked the 16th consecutive year of growth for record sales, and now accounts for 71% of physical format revenues.

These figures represent a remarkable resurgence in the physical music industry after its muted performance in 2020 due to the pandemic. Vinyl records have been particularly popular, as they enable people to enjoy the nostalgia of listening to their favourite music on physical formats.

It looks like vinyl records are here to stay for the foreseeable future, as people rediscover their love for the classic medium. Whether you're a collector or a casual fan, it's clear that vinyl is officially making a comeback.

Wine Concierge Service - Jeff (pre recorded answers)

<https://www-cnbc-com.cdn.ampproject.org/c/s/www.cnbc.com/amp/2023/03/09/miami-condo-insane-luxury-amenities.html>

From CNBC in the socials Ray Parisi takes a look inside Miami condos that are insane with luxury amenities.

- $22.5 million condo in Miami is
  - sandwiched between the Atlantic Ocean and the Intracoastal Waterway, meaning flow-through apartments deliver two different waterfront views, one for sunset and one for sunrise.
  - Residents get membership at the local Country Club which has 2 golf courses and a giant waterpark plus access to the nearby private corporate jet center, and there's access to the 180 feet long dock for their yachts.
  - There is a dog retreat where lucky pooches can take in the ocean views while they take care of business.
- In another building, the attractions range from an ice skating rink to a Formula One race simulator and a FlowRider surfing simulator — a wave machine that creates swells for building residents to surf on.
- But, for the truly absurd imo, At the Porsche Design Tower, in-unit parking is accessed by car elevator, aka the Dezervator, named after the building's developer Gil Dezer. It whisks residents and their wheels up to their apartment so they can park steps away from the living room.

9	GAME OF THE WEEK - Tetris

Theme	Tetris Theme
--------------	---------------------

 Many versions available. Windows Store Tetrix.net Android and iOS Tetris the Official Game	Tetris is a puzzle video game created by Soviet software engineer Alexey Pajitnov in 1984. Tetris is primarily composed of a field of play in which pieces of different geometric forms, called "tetrominoes", descend from the top of the field. During this descent, the player can move the pieces left/right and rotate them until they touch the bottom of the field or land on a piece that had been placed before it. You cannot slow down the falling pieces nor stop them, but you can accelerate them in most versions. Completed lines disappear, in effect moving things down and creating more space for new tetrominoes to invade. You can then proceed to fill the vacated spaces with the new pieces rotating them to hopefully make them fit this ever evolving puzzle. The game ends when the uncleared lines reach the top of the playing field. The longer the player can delay max capacity, the higher their score will be. Built on simple rules, Tetris established itself as one of the great early video games. By December 2011, Tetris had sold 202 million copies – approximately 70 million physical units and 132 million paid mobile game downloads – making it one of the best-selling video game franchises of all time.
